THAT the tents of Kushan have been in affliction, and that there has been much trembling amongst the curtains of Midian, is becoming daily more evident as the time draws near for the verdict of the House of Lords on Mr. LLOYD GEORGE's revolutionary Budget. Mr. WINSTON CHURCHILL has been doing his best by a show of confidence he little feels to encourage the failing hearts of his garrison, for, to his credit be it said, a CHURCHILD has never in the hour of danger with the other members of the corps. A main aim has been to destroy the reserve of contributed towards a souvenir which they curious, yet instructive, instance of this has capital whence comes the available gold, might first rank, allowing the merely political Perhaps too, this rush of imports, spoken of places as merely secondary, the Economist necessities, but consisting of industrial occupied a high position; and its financial products formerly manufactured in England articles were read with interest and instruc- and Britain generally by the skill of British tion by all parties alike. Following the rule of one and all of these faddists, as we said, the Economist has made letter on account of its importance—in Mr. Command from January 1. LLOYD GEORGE'S eyes—the discovery is that, The total output of the Chinese Engineering have been given to the Treasury that if the Lords reject the present Chancellor of the Exchequer's Budget, the "Exchequer would suffer a loss of 871 to 51 millions Thegrounds of this most recent discovery are of course, as is usual with paradox-makers, concealed, unless REUTER has maliciously suppressed them. The ordinary scientific man, accustomed to calculate the unknown from known data, finds himself here utterly at sea; the foundation, presumed to be fact, is in fact as unstable as the Goodwin Sands, caused as all the world knows by the spire of Tenterden Church. The Discovery has in fact equal, but no more, stability with Mr. STEAD'S vision of the late W. E. GLAD STONE blessing Mr. GEORGE'S Budget from the under, or, shall we say, upper, regions, and has the additional likeness of being equally acceptable by our redoubtable Chancellor of the Exchequer, who clutches it as eagerly as does the drowning man the straw floating by.

But the bow of HERCULES has yet another untried string, and Mr. LLOYD GEORGE in his hour of agony has had recourse, SAUL in his sore distress, also to a SAMUEL and calle, doubtless through some such inysterious agency as the wizard STEAD another SAMUEL, in this case Lord SWAYTH-LING. Lord SWAYTHLING is head of the important banking house of SAMUEL MONTAGUE and Co., and was a member of the Gold and Silver Commission of 1887. So far prima facie Lord SWATTHLING may was the guest of His Excellence Majorbe looked upon as an expert in matters financial, but—there are buts in the case— Lord SWATTHLING was one of the peers who for their lifelong services to the party were recommended by the late Sir HENRY CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN in 1907 for elevation Consistency, no less to the Upper House. than gratitude, would require that he should render every assistance compatible with his conscience to the present administration His son, besides, is Private Secretary to the | but also as a man who is above all things sincere Chancellor of the Exchequer, so that Lord SWATTHLING's opinion can hardly be classed as entirely disinterested. Like the Economist, his argument is not given; probably it is suppressed out of REUTER's malignity. Like the other, it is as enigmatical as an oracle from the priestess at Delphi. BEFORE THE ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE (HON. MB. REES DAVIES).

BANKRUPTCY PROBECUTION.

Li Wei Tong, partner of the Lum Yick firm, which formerly did business at 304, Des Voux Road, was arraigned on four counts which charged him with offences under the Bank ruptcy Ordinance. He pleaded not guilty. The Acting Attorney-General (Hon. F. A. Hazeland), instructed by Mr. Dennys, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. C. G. Alabaster, instructed by Mr. Paget Hett, appeared for the defence. The following jury were empanelled: Messrs.

deficit arising from the rejection of H. A. Lammert, W. F. Gardner, A. J. Rochs, E. H. W. Reinhard, D. Jackson, G. H. Barker, and R. D. Harvie.

The Attorney-General stated that the defendant was charged under four sections of the Bankruptcy Ordinance. The first was that he, with intent to defraud, being a member of the Lum Yick firm, did not discover to G. H Wakeman, the Official Receiver, the existence of some 305 jars of ginger, valued at over $7,000; the second offence was that he did deliver, the third was that he did conceal, and

The hearing was adjourned.

LICENSING COURT.

PUBLICAN'S LICENCE FOR ASTOR HOUSE REPUSED.

Mr. J. R. Wood presided over a meeting of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace held at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, and there were also present Captain F. W. Lyons, Mr. R. H. A. Craig and Mr. G. A. Woodcock.

The first application considered was from L Gameau for a publican's or an adjunct licence for Astor House.

Mr. W. E. L. Shenton (of Messrs, Deacon, Looker and Descon), who appeared in support of the applicant, stated that a publican's licence for these premises was refused at the annual meeting of Justices on certain grounds which he understood had something to do with the bar being downstairs. He now applied for a publican's licence, or in the alternative at adjunct licence. Under the Ordinance there was power for the Justices to impose certain conditions when granting a licence. The interpretation clause set out what a publican's licence was, and the Justices would see further over that the penalties inflicted under the Ordinance were four in number, one being for the breach of any of the terms or conditions of the licence. That seemed to imply that there was a power given the Justices in granting a licence to impose certain terms on licences, which terms were enforceable by fine or imprisonment. Mr. Gameau asked for a publican's licence if the Justices could see their way to grant it, because It was extremely difficult to carry out effectively the terms of an adjunct licence. It was difficult to tell in a hotel whether a person was, or wa not, a visitor, and a man did not like being asked the question. Mr. Shenton trusted that the Justices would see their way to granting a publican's licence under certain conditions. If not be would ask for the usual adjunct licence which the applicant had hitherto held.

Captain Lyons-The conditions referred to are on the back of the licence. You cannot go beyond those. Mr. Shenton-That is not provided in the

Mr. Sheaton-Your Worships have a very strong voice in legislative matters, and any suggestion going from you to the Attorney-General would receive his careful consideration. #### THE STRANDING OF THE S.S. "TAK HING."

The Marine Court of Inquiry into the circumstances connected with the stranding of the river steamer Tak Hing held its second sitting at the Harbour Office yesterday. The Court had for its members :-- Commander Basil R. H. Taylor, R.N. (Stipendiary Magistrate), President: Lieut. H. Butterworth, R.N., H.M.S. Tamar: Captain E. Beetham, master of the s.s. Empress of India; Captain G. S. Wiegall, master of the s.s. Man Sang; and Captain H. W. Walker, master of the s.s. Kwong Tung.

Mr. R. A. Harding appeared for the See Yap Steamship Co., Litd., and Mr. C. W. Wilkinson (of Mesers. Wilkinson and Grist) represented the captain of the Tak Hing.

Captain J. Lawrence, master of the s.s. Tai On, spoke to remembering the 19th October, when the Hoi Ming, the Tai On and the Tak Hing were anchored in the river at Kongmoon, Witness shifted his berth twice, and after he had shifted a second time the Tak, Hing also shifted, and after midnight was moored well out in the stream. She was in a safe anchorage provided her anchor would hold her. After midnight the wind increased and was accompanied by blinding showers of rain. Both anchors on the Tai On were run out, but the vessel dragged and went ashore. About this time witness saw the Tak Hing ashore, and it seemed to him that the same squall drove them both aground. The owners of the Tai On had not charged him with negligence. By Mr. Harding-Witness anchored close to the east side of the river when he shifted berth for the second time. The Hoi Ming was astern of his vessel, and between the Tai On and Tak Hing witness was much closer to the bank than the Tak Hing, but there was not much shelter where he anchored. He anchored where he did on account of the way the wind was blowing, and in order that he might have more room to drag. He could not say which vessel went aground first. By Mr. Wilkinson-Had the wind changed to another direction he would have been in a dangerous position. Witness had navigated these waters for years, and on the night of the typhoon he considered that the captain of the Tak Hing had seted as a prudent man in anchoring where he did. Mr. F. O. Davis, chief officer of the s.s. Tak Hing, stated that his vessel arrived at Kongmoon on October 17th and anchored in her usual place. The vessel was shifted to a better berth at about 6.15 p.m. on account of the threatening weather. She was then moored in one of the best anchorages in the river. When the weather became dirty they got no assistance from the crew, who could not be found. The Captain was on the bridge all the time, and witness had to let go the port anchor, as the crew could not be found. The anchor was dropped with the object of steadying the ship. About 25 fathoms of chain were let out on the the port, and 75 fathoms on the starboard anchor. They were unable to tell whether the veteel was dragging or not, She had full steam up and the engines did actually work. At about 12.45 a.m. the Tak Hing went ashore, and the port anchor was taken up. The Tak Hing would have been refloated the morning after she went ashore if the compredere had obeyed the captain's orders. By Mr. Harding-Witness had no assistance when he put the port anchor down. There was not a sailor among the crow of the Tak Hing. They were no better than ricsha coolies, and failed to take their posts when the storm broke. You know the Company has not seen the log since the typhoon? - It was on the ship, where it should be. Didn't you hear from the captain that an application had been made for an explanation ?-I don't remember it.

By Lieut. Butterworth-The ground tackle was not sufficient to hold the ship in bad

The Court found that the master and mate of the Tak Hing took all necessary precautions, and behaved in a seamanlike manner, but according to the evidence the Chinese crew failed to render assistance. The certificated officers were acquitted from all blame.

THE MERRYMAKERS

An advertisement on page 4 announces the coming of The Merrymakers, a strong company of comedians, singers and dancers, who will occupy the Theatre for six nights, commencing on Monday week, December 6th. As a sample of the notices in the Press which their performances have evoked we may quote the following from West Australia: - The Merrymakers came, saw and conquered. Beyond any question of a doubt the bill was one of the best presented to Perth audiences. Patrons were not slow in showing their appreciation of the management's efforts to supply that which has long been badly missed in this city. a solid high-class variety entertainment, calculated to please the most precise, to anuse and send everyone away satisfied that they can not have too much of a good thing. Every item was enthusiastically received and the opening and final choruses were as strong as those usually heard in comic opera. One after another the various artists made their appearance, introducing magic, music, comedy and dancing. The entertainment lasted a good solid two hours, and the final sketch by the full company created roars of laughter." Bests may be booked st S. Montrie & Co.

INTERPORT CRICKET.

FIFTH DAY.

STRAITS V. SHANGHAI.

Yesterday, the fifth day of the cricket meeting, saw the opening of the match between Shanghai and the Straits, but Hongkong, having won the tournament there was not the same amount of interest manifested in the match. Fine weather conditions prevailed, and some good cricket was witnessed. Shanghai won the toss and batted first. Hubbach, having hurt his knee, was unable to take the field, and Lt. Paxton filled the breach.

Barrett and Lanning went to the wicket first. They showed themselves in good batting form and both hit out well, sending both Hennessy and Clarke all over the field. When Lanning had compiled 22 he hit out at one of Clarke's deliveries, which dropped into the hands of Eddis. The first partnership had produced 36. Lambe followed, but he was again unfortunate, being caught by Hennessy before he had made a run. This was his second duck of the meeting. The score now stood Shanghai's hopes rose when Anderson joined Barrett, but runs did not come at all freely, and forty minutes had gone Other five runs before 50 was registered. went to the combination, when Barrett was caught by Brown at mid-on after he had compiled a useful 23. The score new stood at 55 for the loss of three wickets. Hawkins succeeded Barrett, but did not keep his end long, being caught in the slips before he had made a run. The fourth wicket fell with the score at 60. Wilson became associated with Anderson, and Mackenzie took over the bowling from Clarke. The batsmen did not get many opportunities, and Anderson, who had been doing well, found himself handicapped through an accident to his finger. He was soon afterwards caught by Eddis in the slips after he had run up 19. The telegraph now indicated 73 runs for the loss of five wickets. Wilson, who found another partner in Brand, got several good strokes off his bat before he was caught by the bowler. The score had now been carried to 80 for six wickets. Shackleton was his successor, and Clarke relieved Hennessy of the bowling. The partnership batted steadily, and the newcomer got the first sixer of the game by lifting one from Mackensie into the Law Courts, The first century was reached at 12.35. After an hour and a half's play Hennessy replaced Mackenzie, and saw Shackelton make several profitable strokes from his trundling, which caused the figures on the board to be altered to 110 within a couple of minutes. The next decade was reached more slowly. Mackensie -bowling a maiden over, and the total was raised to 138 when the tiffin interval arrived.

After the adjournment Brand and Shackleton continued their good stand and brought the register to 190 before they were separated, Brand being stumped by Maartenez after the bowlers they were dismissed, a much higher figure than was anticipated, but probably the deterioration in the Straits fielding-which was not so good as against Hongkong-accounted for this. Straits commenced batting at 3 o'clock. They had some luck in the first over, Eddis getting a couple of snicked boundaries and a two off Sparke (one should have been held in the head office of the Hongkong and Shanghai the slips), and Grenier gave a fine catch, behind which the fielder failed to retain. tried to get me to support when I resided in After a short spell Donnelly entrusted the ball Hongkong, and I know tried but failed to get to Main, whose initial efforts went rather wide. Eddis sent him to the boundary, and Grenier shareholder, but I strongly approve of the policy cut a beauty for like value on changing of having members of all nations on the Board ends, Mains' first thus over proving somewhat expensive. Only 40 had been compiled in the first half-hour, and soon after the figures had been altered Eddis was caught by Brand at mid-on, having compiled 28. The score stood at 42 for one when Clarke came in, but he only made two when he took a fast ball from Sparke which went behind and was caught by Barrett. The telegraph read, 50-2-2 Zehnder joined Grenier, but his tenure was short, Bandmann Comedy Company gave a fine interand the combination took the score to 80 when four o'clock was called. A change of bowlers was the bottom end. Grenier pulled Anderson's first ball to leg for a four, and got one on the second, the over costing Shanghai five. Mackenzie made up the partnership before the husbands are restored to grace. and Sparke took over the bowling from Donnelly' Main, in the over following Brown's retirement repeated his bowling achievement, taking Mackenzie's wicket before he got a run. 120-5-0. Off and On - Mass of Small, Watery Spots Came on Hands, Feet, Legs and Head-Irritation was Fearful -Sought Different Doctors and Skin Hospitals In Vain.

FOUND "WONDERFUL" CURE IN CUTICURA

"I have suffered off and on with eosema for forty years in my hands, feet, legs and head. It always came in a mass of small spots and a considerable quantity of watery matter used to come from them. I have been under many different doctors and in different dospitals for the treatment of the skin (in one for sixteen weeks and it only got worse) but derived little or no benefit. Last year:I commenced using the Cuti-ours. Remedies. The first tin of Cuticura Ointment began to heal the sores and gave me great relief from the fear-ful irritation. Since then I have used two more tins of Cutlours with Cutleurs Soap and Pills and am quite well which, considering the years I have suffered with eczema, I consider wonderful. I can candidly say the Cuticura Remedies alone were the only things that cured me. I have already persuaded one of my friends to give them a trial, and shall continue to recommend them. Too much can never be said in Cuticura's favor. Mrs. Marie Spencer, 9 New St., Covent Garden, London, W C., Eng., July 10 and Sept. 29, 1908.

exclusively British Post Office? If it did, other nations might surely apply for similar subsidies. and we should have further indefinite complications introduced in to an already sufficiently complicated situation.

HWANGPOO CONSERVANCY.

Another enterprise in which finance seems likely to cause difficulty is the conservancy of the Hwangpoo. In its hurry to terminate a concert in which every instrument seemed playing a different tune-(laughter)-after the Boxer trouble at Peking, diplomacy exacted from China an undertaking to set aside a certain sun for this purpose, without looking beyond to a period when that sum might be exhausted. Yet that time seemed recently to have arrived, the money having been spent; the work being incomplete and considerable risk being run that much of what has been done will be undone unless funds are promptly forthcoming. It is now announced that, by direction of the Waiwupu, the Taotai of Shanghai has allotted 3 0,000 taels to complete the closing of the Ship Canal and make the Astress Channel effective. It is needless to point out how vital it is to the prosperity of Shanghai to have its approach by water conserved, and I venture to express the hope that diplomatic representations will bring the Central Townsend, J. K. Tweed, Fred Ward, H. E. that the prevention of opinm smoking would authority to agree that, cost what it may, the carried out without delay and to a finish. That the commercial community of Shanghai is taking deep interest in this work is shown China must experience if and when the aboli- by the arrangement that has been made recenttion of opium cultivation and import really ly by their Chamber of Commerce to obtain a report from English engineers of the highest proportion of which has been derived from the standing on the scheme that is being carried report will set at rest the doubts which have been expressed in certain quarters regarding the scheme and put a quencher on all agitation

You will have noted, I am sure, with gratification the response which has been made to Sir Frederick Lugard's appeal for funds to endowa University for Hongkong, in pursuance of Mr. Mody's munificent offer of the necessary buildings on condition the Government would give the land and that a stated sum should be subscribed as an Endowment Fund. # "Gained over one stone in weight."

Dear Sirs,-You will be pleased to learn of the great benefit I have derived from a course of Angler's Emulsion. At the end of the summer I was thoroughly "run down," and felt extremely weak. I tried many different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me good. On the advice of a friend I decided to try Angier's Emulsion, and it has certainly had a most wonderful effect upon me, for I have gained over one stone in weight, and feel benefited in every way. I strongly recommend Angier's Emulsion as a great boon to sufferers from lung affections, and to all who are "run down" in health. BRADDEN HALL, Vocalist.

HEALING AND STRENGTHENING.

Angier's Emulsion is unequalled as a recuperative in all cases of lung, stomach or bowel weakness, after serious illness or when "run down" from any cause. Because it is soothing and healing as well as strengthening, and because it is pleasant to take and agreeable to the most delicate stomach, it is the ideal tonic and builder for use in any climate. It will be found especially helpful to those who suffer, from loss of strength, want of appetite and symptoms of indigestion

JAPAN QUESTIONS. In Japan we have had fortunately few burntrade marks there appears a fair likelihood that piracy will not in the future be allowed the the Japanese trader will be brought to understand that there are better ways of trading than copying foreign packing and trade marks in order to push the sale of his imitation wares. Let us hope that before many years pass the ordinary Japanese traders may come to be actuated by the same high military and naval countrymen. (Applause.)

The question of taxation of perpetual leaseholders in the old Treaty Ports, which has again cropped up, is, I understand, receiving the attention of the British Government, and I think you will agree with me that it would be indiscreet to comment on this occasion on a matter that is best left in diplomatic hands, and as regards the Treaty revision which is to come in 1911 nothing can yet be said.

THE MEMBERSHIP.

I am far from having exhausted the topics which have engaged the attention of the Committee, but I have, I think, touched on the more important, and I have only to say further that if numbers mean anything we are indeed prosperous, for there are now almost 1,100 members on the roll of the China Association, while its finances are in a most flourishing condition. (Loud applause.)

Mr. H. WHITKHEAD proposed the health of the visitors in a felicitous speech, in which he touched upon the accomplishments of some of the distinguished men gathered round the board. He coupled with the toast the name of Mr. Valentine Chirol, foreign director of the Times, whose knowledge of Near and Far Eastern matters he described as unsurpassed. MR. CHIROL'S SPEECH.

Mr. CHIROL, in responding, spoke of his recent trip to the East and said he could not conceal his opinion that the position of this country in China was not what it was when he first went out to the Far East, just after the war between Japan and China in 1895. The British position was still a great one, but it was no longer the position of unchallenged and apparently unassailable pre-eminence which it then held. Speaking of the present position of the railway question, he admitted that under present conditions international co-operation might be more advantageous than cut-throat competition, but it should be co-operation based upon complete equality and reciprocity of treatment-(applause)-and not as in a recent case, imposed under the compulsion of accomplished facts savouring not a little of sharp practice. (Applause.) had been something of a shock to him to know that so powerful a British institution as the Hongkong and Shanghai years' success Sold by all Bank, which had rendered immense services to Chemists and Storekeepers the interests of Great Britain in the past, now included in its Court of Directors no small proportion of German names, representing the most important German firms in the Far. East, which were also the most relentless, and often the most successful, rivals of British trade and industry. (Hear, hear.) Possibly he had not made sufficient -allowance for the growing cosmopolitanism of finance, but he would have liked to see in these matters more reciprocity, and he could not imagine representative Englishmen being admitted in the same generous fashion to the board of the Deutsche Asiatische Bank or other equally enterprising German concerns in China. (Laughter and applause.)

Few questions were of greater importance for British trade, as well as for the financial credit of China, than the future of the Maritime Customs. It was a great satisfaction to know that Sir Robert Hart, one of the distinguished visitors that evening, had made up his mind to return once more to China: (Applause.) would not do violence to Sir Robert's well known modesty by praising his life's work, but their solemn engagement towards Great Britain by appointing a British subject, but it was We were able to announce also that a per- feared that British influence might not avail

I am glad to say that as regards should have a very different China to deal with than the China of twenty years ago: Withm my of the aspirations of Young China they were bound license it has had in the past, and I trust that to sympathise, but they should remember also the claim which the bosy settlements in the Treaty Ports had upon the protection of the British Government for the rights of administrative self-government, which were the charter of their prosperity. If they analysed the prosent situation in China it would be found that where individual energy and individual onmoral tone that permeates the ranks of their | terprise could still achieve success, Englishmen still held their own, though the success was less marked and less assured. The failures or the weakening which he had indicated seemed to him to proceed chiefly from the fact that we had not learnt the lesson of the necessity of the co-ordination of national forces, based upon perfected methods of national education, which Germany above all had learnt, which Japan had learnt, and which the United States, though more tardily, were now showing they also had learnt. (Laughter and applause.) He was dead against payment of members, but he would cheerfully support a grant from the Treasury for sending prospective administrators and legislators round the world by Egypt and the East through Australasia and Home by Canada. (Applause.) If Englishmen in China were determined to work hard and to pull together and to consider themse ves each in his own sphere of activity to some extent a trustee for British national interests, he was confident this country would retain in the twentieth century a position not unworthy of that which the British in the past century

Mr. Scorr briefly replied, after which an adjournment was made to the reception room for more exchanges of "tales of the days that are gone." 'I he chief topic of discussion was the return of Sir Robert Hart to China. Sir Robert goes out in the Spring. The climate here is proving too damp for him, and his advisers recommend a return to the sharper air of North China. DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS. The occupation of Mr. G. E. Vowles is that of a fireman on the G. I. P. Railway. At all times trying work, it is easy to imagine how hard engine-firing must be under the blazing Indian sun, when the blood is at fever heat and the body is suffering the tortures that spell Malaria. Yet Mr. Vowles had the courage to stick to his duty when in this grievous plight until his sufferings, and repeated

SPELLS OF DIZZINESS. which made it as dangerous for the travelling public as for himself that he should remain on his engine, compelled him to go upon the sick

"Sometimes when I was on the engine my head would start to go round and round, until I felt that my legs could hold me up no longer and that I must full, "said Mr. Vowles when interviewed at " Duncastle," Clare Road, Bombay where he resides." "I stuck to my work for about a month after the Fever first gripped me. but then I became so frightfully weak, and had such feequent attacks of dizziness, that I was compelled to give up and

GO ON SICK-LEAVE. I had been losing weight rapidly and my appetito had dwindled away almost to nothing, when the doctor took me in hand, but although I was under treatment for two months, instead of deriving benefit from his medicine I got worse and worse every day, each fresh bout of Fever and Ague leaving me feeling MORE DEAD THAN ALIVE.

I had become indeed a dull, nervous, melan. choly being as a result of the drain the Malaria was making on my system when some friends recommended me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These good people seemed so sure of Dr. Williams Pink Pills doing me good that I took their advice.

Soon after commencing the Pills I began to feel better, and as I went on with their use I found my strength returning day by day. By the time I had finished six bottles of them I was quite well. I am thankful to say that since that time the

HAS NEVER RETURNED. I have become quite strong, and enjoy life and its pleasures once more to the full. As I owe my recovery both from the Malaria, and tha Nervous Debility which resulted from it. entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am sure that others who are stricken as I was will find a eure also if they follow my example."

Before the introduction of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People the usual medicine given for Malaria was Quinine, a drug which is only a sedative, or temporary remedy, and which has the disudvantage that its constant cuse produces deafness and other ill-effects. Now all this is changed. It is realised that Malaria is caused by the presence of a poison in the blood, and the experience of THOUSANDS OF SUFFERERS like Mr. Vowles has proved that Dr. Williams" Pink Pills-the most perfect tonic bloodmedicine in the world-permanently cure it. Among other maladies for which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the proved remedy are Ansemia or bloodlessness, Debility, Norvousness, Liver Disorder, Indigestion, Hendaches, Bile, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Paralysis, Beri-Beri, Eczema, and Skin Eruption and the after-offects of Fevers, Dysentery and Chills. They are also widely known as the great specific for women's' aches and ills. Sold by most medicine vendors; also obtainable direct from the Dr. Williams. The idea is tive and the commercial, will marshal choice fully to open the pages on which the progress of the various productions of their of Japanese civilization is written. With that object the exhibits will be devised and arranged lacquers, cloisonné and cloisonless enamels, BO BE to illustrate the history of Japanese bronzes, silver carving, paper, bamboo work, literature, religion, military and naval organization, and a multitude of other objects. tions, communications, administrative systems, Forestry, of course, will be represented, and sciences. Thus London will be able and the choicest timbers in Japan as well to see a miniature representation of what Japan was from age to age and what she has not been in new come to be. This plan has not been in any sense of the nature of an afterthought. The sense of the nature of an afterthought. Conceived from the outset by the managing a few years later. Finally the programme emcommittee, it was minutely explained to intend- braces an exhibition of all the animals found in ing exhibitors, receiving their full approval Japan and of the methods of hunting them.

It will be seen, in short, that instead of a mere the preparations have been an mated through miscellary of products and manufactures, the out by an intelligent purpose. THE HISTORICAL SECTION.

Twelve halls will be devoted to the historical display. At their entrance there will be a reproduction of the red-lacquer gate of the Kasuga Shrine. It will have on either side corridors into which the halls will open, and along these corridors will be placed rows of Japanese pillar-lamps (toro). Hall I. will be devoted to exhibits illustrating most ancient times—that is to say, the period anterior to the eighth century of the Christian era. Hall II. will be devoted to the Nara opoch (509-784 A.D.) Halls III, IV., and V. to the Heinn epoch, the period between the removal of the Court to Cyoto (794 A.D.) and the the fall of the Fujiwara Family (1050 A.D.); Hall VI. to the Gempei epoch (i.e., the short interval of 30 years 1156 to 1185-which witnessed the struggle between the Houses of Tairs and Minamoto); Hall VII. to the Kamakura spock (the period from the establishment of the feudal capital at Kamakura in 1192 to the fall in 1333 of the Hojo Family); Hall VIII. to the Ashikaga epoch (1338-1565); Hall IX to the Momoyama epoch (1570-1620); Hall A to the Tokugawa spech (1620-1867); Hall X1 will contain a pavilion for the Tea Ceremonial, as well as all the paraphernalia of the latter; and Hall XII. will be divided into 12 sections, the contents of which will be arranged with the object of affording a bird's-eye view of all the epochs in close proximity so as to facilitate comparison, utonsils, puppets, and pictures being freely employed for purposes of illustra-Japan have been placed under contribution for the purposes of these 12 halls, and thus visitors to the exhibition will have an opportunity not only of learning the successive stages of Japan's civilisation, but also of examining authentic specimens of her art in all ages.

ARTS AND INDUSTRIES. The other halls are to be filled with modern products, but here, too, additional interest will be imparted by devices for showing Japanese methods, A brief reference to the exhibits in each section will explain the scope contemplated and the plan followed. Thus in Hall XIII. the central exhibit will be dyed goods, and the concomitants will be embroideries, convey an idea of Japanese specialties. embroidery deserves special mention. It is a reproduction of the last picture painted Kano Hagai, and the embroiderer Mr. Sugawara, working to the order R. Kondo, president of the Japan

Mail S.S. Company. The picture is an allegorical representation of the creation of man Kwannon, Goddess of Mercy, drops from her phial a bubble within which a new-born child appears with folded hands in a posture of veneration The artist has arrived at most delicate effects of atmosphere, clouds, and drapery. A more difficult subject for a worker with silk and needle could hardly be conceived. and indeed Sugawara, beginning it on June 2, 1906, did not finish it until July 12, 1909, using 12,100 different shades of silk and 12 of gold thread. Such achievements will remain possible in Japan only so long as highly skilled experts are willing to toil for the wages of common labourer in the Occident.

Next to Hall No. XIII. will stand Hall No. XXI., which has four sections for mining, agriculture, marine products, and articles of for novel conceptions in the department of gamble in the options to his heart's content? mining, but, in addition to specimens, maps and statistics, the methods of taking out and efining ore will be shown by means of models electrically worked. # RUBBER SHARE OPTIONS.

THEIR ISSUE AS PROMOTION PROFITS.

INTERESTING COMMENTS BY THE

"ECONOMIST." The Economist of October 16 has an article on the growing practice of issuing options on shares as part satisfaction of promotion profits. and it may be remembered that we drew attention to this in our comment on the Merliman promotion. The system, as the Economist says, has rapidly risen in popularity and has come to the front a great deal of late, in connection not only with rubber issues, but also with West African mines, and a certain number of Kaffir companies. It is, of course, no new thing, Athough only within the past half-year or so has it attained any degree of fame.

On the face of it, the granting of options at par over shares in a new company to the promotors of the venture by way of their remuneration appears to be an admirable method of securing the interest of those promoters in the success of the company. It means, or ought to mean, that the profit of the promoters must rest upon the success of the undertaking; othertion. Practically all the great collections of wise there will be no value attached to calling pays good dividends, the shares will advance in price, thereby making it worth while for the promoters to exercise their call, and to sell the shares in the market. This is how the matter will appear to the average investor who sees it stated in a prospectus that no promotion money will be paid, but that a call of shares at par has been granted to those instrumental in the formation of the company. Thanks to the absence of such promotion profit, the capital looks invitingly small, and it seems obvious that if the call is to become of any worth, the insiders must do their utmost to raise the concern to such a level of prosperity as will induce the public to bay at a premium, of which the promoand cognate manufactures, all selected so as to ters will be able to take advantage by calling the shares, and selling them at a profit. Some result of this kind was no doubt unticipated by wheever invented the method of rewarding promoters, and quite possibly the pioneer of the business might rub his eyes in astonishment at the developments that have arisen out of the excollently conceived principle.

WHERE DANGER LIES. The mischief first arose out of the issue of what are known as option certificates. An option might appear to be a thing too intangible to negotiste like stocks or shares, but this initial difficulty has been surmounted by the creation of transferable option certificates, dealt in by the market with a freedom not much less than is allowed to the shares themselves. Quotations for these options are regulated by movements in the shares, and as the media speculation the options are frequently favoured. The options having in most cases a good time to run, there is little attraction for the holder who can deal in certificates to call the shares which they represent. He sees s brisk market, he knows that the price of rubber is strong; why should he trouble to call the shares and pay for them, when he can The company, however, may want the money represented by the option shares. The prospectus having been framed on modest lines as regards capital, more funds become necessary as the company proceeds, but there is no machinery

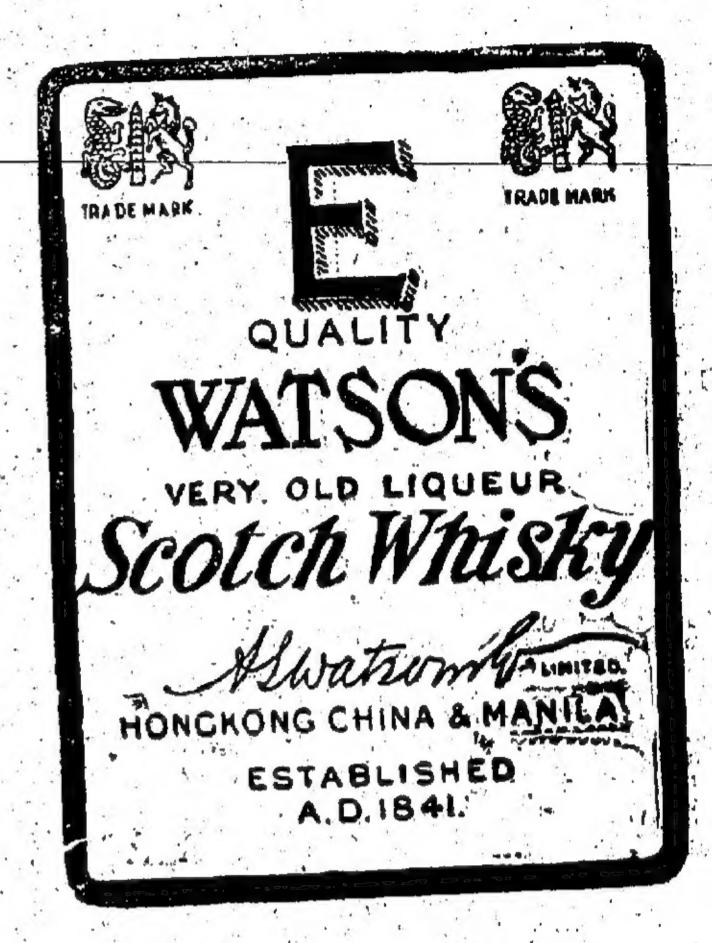

THE OPTIONS CHANGE HANDS. Certainly the prosperity of the company by means of models, while from the reeled means the advantage of the option proprietor, silk sent by 160 leading members of the Seri- but the latter is in all likelihood no longer cultural Guild of Japan and from the cocoons the premoter of the undertaking; he is some sent by 100 members a Fuji 20ft, high will speculator who has taken the option shares sent by 100 members a Fuji Zant. high will specialists the original allottee, and has no par-be built, with the river of the same name from the original allottee, and has no parfarming also will be illustrated by lay figures so distribution of the option certificates need that visitors will be able to see what the life of present no great difficulty when the subscripan agriculturist involves in Japan from season; tion lists are closed so rapidly as to give the to season. In the realm of marine products public little chance of taking up the issue of there is much to attract attention. The many shares. A good premium established on the curious fish peculiar to Far Eastern waters; the shares by the people who have secured the culture of artificial pearls; the method of fishing | bulk of them, what can be easier than to with cormorants; the development of Japaness market the option certificates, at a respectvessels, from the primitive dug-out to the able figure? It looks a good gamble, and modern steamer; the implements used in fish-ing—all these are interesting and will be quite derives no penny-piece of benefit unless the novel to many visitors. There will be one hall option shares are called. Its operations may -No. XXIII. devoted to exhibits from Forme- be cramped for want of capital, yet it cannot an, the leased territory in Kwantung, Korea, demand the calling of the option shares, which are being largely dealt in through the agency of the option certificates. The promoters benefit, at the ultimate expense, as usual, of the company and its shareholders. It is not to be supposed. of course, that the procedure just mentioned model of Kumamoto Castle, with its towers, its happens in all cases; rather is it an example of battlements, its mosts, and its trace—indented how the action of an excellent theory can be perverted, logically enough, by the facilities tresses of medieval Japan; and there will be afforded through market dealing in option

POSSIBLE REMEDIES. Remedies for what might turn into an aggravated evil will suggest themselves at once. The point to aim at is the supply of the company with the money represented by the options. If that is achieved, the gamble in the shares will benefit or hurt only those engaged in place in this hall will be appropriately assigned it. The company—except perhaps indirectly will be neither the better nor the worse off for and from the laboratory of the renowned it. Some method of compelling holders of the bacteriologist, Dr. Kitazato. Hall XXVI. will options either to exercise or forfeit their call.

Were there no option certificates, the shares would have to be called before they could be dealt in, and the company would in this way get at least some of its money if the chares stood at a premium. Another plan which suggests itself is that options should become enforceable, or lapse altogether, upon the attainment by the shares of a certain price in the market The Apex mines attached a condition somewhat similar to this in making its last new issue, and it was provided that if the quotation for the existing shares made up at, or above, a fixed level on two consecutive carry over days, the options granted to the shareholders over the new issue had to be exercised or forfeited. That a provise of one kind or another should, in the interests of the company, be inserted whenever options are granted and option certificates issued is manifest, for if some such safeguard is not applied a company might find itself badly handicapped for lack of funds, even though its shares commanded a high premium in the market, and its capital could be amply replenished were only its option shares to be called by the people holding the certificates.
